Century's Guiding Principles

Century is centered around three basic principles.

- Stewardship: viewing business through the eyes of stewards rather than owners.
- Relationships: valuing the many relationships begun and built through business.
- Faith + Family: supporting and reinforcing the time-honored values of faith and family.

As stewards...

...it is our foremost responsibility to use the resources entrusted to us to bless the lives of others. This includes our customers, vendors, employees, and community. We recognize that in terms of opportunity and wealth, we have been given far more than many individuals in our world today. The ability and privilege of participating in the marketplace is a gift from which we are called to share generously.

Our business relationships...

...must benefit others just as much—if not more—than they benefit Century. We want to build our success on a foundation of excellent customer service, on-time delivery, product and price value, innovative designs, and custom capabilities. We will do our best to be a valued partner in the success of your business. Building friendships and trust through every transaction, email, or conversation is a responsibility and privilege not to be taken lightly.

Faith and family...

...are what guide Century in an increasingly chaotic, confusing world. Ultimately our goal is to show a better Way by sharing the peace and joy that come from knowing the Savior of the world. While we do not leverage faith for business, we do want integrity and character to be at the core of our business practices. Century is to be an avenue through which we can encourage thriving families, the building blocks of a healthy society.

To our current customers, thank you for giving us the opportunity to serve you. For those considering Century products, we look forward to earning that business. We invite you to join the Century community as we work together to better our respective corners of the world.
